Proven Excellence:

Motivation Luxury Summit is an exclusive event that brings together a select elite of buyers from the United States, Canada, Mexico and all of Latin America, carefully selected under rigorous criteria. Our Hosted Buyers are decision-making professionals and senior business executives specialized in luxury incentive travel.

To be part of the distinguished group of guests at the Motivation Luxury Summit, buyers must meet one essential criterion: provide concrete evidence of their participation in the most recent incentive programs or international corporate meetings held outside their home country. This participation must be verifiable with suppliers, thus ensuring the quality and prestige of our event. At Motivation Luxury Summit, we not only bring together the best, but we guarantee the excellence and high level of each meeting.

Luxury guests, exceptional in their caliber

With a solid track record in the global meetings market, we have established ourselves as leaders in delivering exceptional investment returns to our clients. This reputation is built on five successful editions, each one surpassing the last in terms of results and customer satisfaction.

Our Buyer selection process is thorough and exhaustive, focused on identifying those with decisive influence on purchases, clear decision-making authority and a demonstrated ability to generate concrete and valuable business opportunities.

Our ability to connect these select buyers with the luxury incentives industry's leading providers stands out for its efficiency and customer-centric approach. We use an advanced and tailored matchmaking process, ensuring that every interaction is relevant, valuable and leads to fruitful and long-lasting business relationships.
